SENATORIAL COMMITTEE VISITS THE SHOALS

Representative Callahan Is Put Out Of Room By Members

STORM BREAKS AS CHARGES ARE MADE

Representative Throws Session In Upward During Debate

WALTON HAS HIS BACK TO WALL

Governor May Face a Grand Jury Probe In the Court

(Associated Press)

Ocala, Oct. 25.—The members of the senatorial committee for the investigation of the case of Governor Walton, today, in a bitter arraignment of the Ku Klux Klan, that N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the Klan, was detaching the kind of legislation to be enacted in Oklahoma.

Callahan's words hardly fell in the house chamber before one member shouted "that a black lie." One member sprang at Callahan's throat and both men fell on the floor in a scuffle. Twelve or fifteen other members rushed toward Callahan, most of them endeavoring to pull the hands off him.

Sergeants and virtually all other members of the house rushed to the corner where the struggle was taking place. Clinched fists were waving in the air as Callahan was ejected into a cloak room, just outside the house chamber.

Callahan stood, guarded by two members, after the sergeant-at-arms had ordered other members back into the chamber.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—The eighth charge in the bill of impeachment against Governor Walton was voted today by the house when it approved 77 to 14 article 12 of its committee report, accusing the executive of declaring martial law in Tulsa, when "no cause, reason or ground existed therefor."

Governor Walton faced possible criminal prosecution for alleged official misdeeds, as he turned with his back to the wall to stem the tide of impeachment already enveloping him.

Ringing in his ear was announcement of a legislative committee, it would present to a grand jury all the impeachment accusations against him.

While the executive awaited the outcome of his court challenge of legislative authority to suspend him from office.

The upper house of the state legislature, holding its first meeting as a court of impeachment, prepared to act in action the machinery for his trial.

The state supreme court this afternoon will hear the application to make permanent a writ of prohibition to prevent the governor from interfering with Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp as acting governor.

This writ was granted late yesterday after the governor refusing to relinquish the executive chair, under the provisions of the senate resolution which suspended him during impeachment proceedings, had obtained an injunction in district court barring Lieutenant Governor Trapp from the office.

The writ of prohibition was obtained by attorney General George Short, "in behalf of acting governor Trapp." It superseded the governor's action and also made Governor Walton and District Judge Tom Chambers, an appointee of the governor, who issued the injunction, defendants. Both are expected to appear in supreme court this afternoon to defend their actions.

Hosiery Mill Head Praises Employees

Officials of the Cooper-Wells Knitting company are very much pleased with the success met with in securing competent trained help so early after starting up their new hosiery mill in the summer.

Mr. King, the superintendent, stated this morning that the new employees secured since the new mill opened were now sufficient in number to operate all the new machinery, and that the output of the mill was now practically double what it was when located on Moulton street.

About January 1, Mr. King stated, new additional knitting machinery will be purchased and set up ready for operation on the vacant floor spaces in the new mill. J. Ogden Wells, President of the Cooper-Wells company, will pay a visit to the local plant of his company early in November.

SARAZEN RETAINS PROFESSIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Gene Sarazen, the little professional of the Briarcliff (N. Y.) Lodge Club, has retained his title as Professional Golf Champion of the United States by defeating Walter Hagen on the 38th hole at Pelham, N. Y. Sarazen, in addition to winning the cup, was presented with a check for $1,500 by the club of which he is the pro.

ROAD BILL CASE IS TO BE APPEALED

Final ruling as to the validity of the Forman road bill, which Judge James E. Horton declared unconstitutional Wednesday afternoon, will be sought by the supporters of the bill in the state supreme court and it is understood the supreme tribunal of the state is expected to hear arguments on the bill November 4.

In taking their appeal from the decision of Judge Horton attorneys for the bill secured the agreement of the Judge to a supersedeas bond, the effect of the acceptance of which being that S. E. Roper retains his office as Superintendent of Morgan County highways until the state supreme court passes final judgment on the Forman bill.

Notice of appeal was given by Judge Robert C. Bricknell to Judge Horton a few minutes after the Judge had sustained the demurrers of the opponents of the Forman bill, following a conference between attorneys who have supported the bill and other supporters of the Forman bill.

The hearing before Judge Horton began at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and concluded a few minutes after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Attorneys appearing for the bill were A. J. Harris and John R. Sample, those for the bill Judge Robert C. Bricknell and Senator Melvin Hutson.

PLANS MADE FOR ARMY'S CAMPAIGN

Following a called meeting of the members of the advisory committee of the local Salvation Army, held at the City National bank Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, another meeting of the committee was called for Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Morgan County Health unit. Owing to the absence of the chairman of the committee, J. W. Clopton, W. W. Rahm presided and stated the object of the meeting.

Following his statement that the meeting was called to devise ways and means for making the annual financial campaign for the Army, Mr. Rahm called on Captain Kearns, the head of the local post of the Salvation Army, who gave an estimate of the expense of maintaining the work of the army in Decatur for one year. Just before adjournment it was asked of W. E. Roper, treasurer of the army, and Captain Kearns, that on Friday they bring to the meeting at 3:30 o'clock full reports as to the assets and liabilities of the Army. It is expected that a chairman of the campaign for financial support to the Army will be named by the advisory committee Friday afternoon.

CENTRAL TO MEET MOULTON FRIDAY

Team Is Handicapped by Gustin's Injury. Keeps Him Out

BOWEN MAY BE USED AS A BACK

Praise Is Given Central as Contender for Championship

The resourcefulness of Coach Dwyck and his golden jerseyed football team will be taxed to its utmost Friday, when Central high school gets into action against Lawrence County high, of Moulton, on the local field. Monday afternoon, misfortune accomplished what various opponents had attempted without success, stopping Joe Gustin, speedy quarterback of the Central machine. Gustin went to the sidelines with an injured shoulder.

In Friday's game Central will be without Gustin's speedy end sweeps, off-tackle smashes and cool field generalship. It is a hard blow, but Coach Dwyck has been trying valiantly to effect a new working combination to face Lawrence county this week end.

Handy drawn back from end has been used in the backfield since in practice. Then Bowen was drafted from tackle to fill the backfield hole. Handy would add another fine passer to the golden backfield, but Bowen shows more promise as a line plunger, getting away fast and hitting the line hard. Handy is such an excellent receiver of tosses, it is very likely Coach Dwyck will leave Bowen in the backfield, temporarily. Handy at end and if Shelton's wrenched knee which kept him out against Morgan, mends sufficiently will start him at the place made vacant by Bowen, left tackle.

Little is known here of Moulton's strength. Lawrence generally has a big strong team, and Central will be called upon for her best to keep the record of wins clean. Central's scores for this season follow: Central 13, Tusculum 0; Central 19, Cullman 17; Central 96, Athens Aggies 0; Central 13, Morgan 0. Central this season has scored 141 points to their opponent's 17.

Commenting on the record the locals are making, the sporting editor of the Birmingham Age-Herald says:

A team that may be heard from in high school circles this year when the argument over championship rights is started is Central High of Decatur. This team is winning consistently in North Alabama and may get down into competition further south to establish her claim, if one develops.

OCTOBER COTTON HITS HIGH MARK

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—October cotton rose to 80 points above last night's close, selling at 31.30 and established a new high level for the season. The increase was due to the fact that only about 4,600 bales were tendered on October contracts, when nearly twice as many had been accepted.

Later months were 11 to 20 points higher.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Cotton ginned prior to October 18, totalled 6,400,579 bales, the census bureau announced today. To October 18 of last year 6,978,321 bales were ginned.

Ginnings in Alabama to October 18 this year were 398,846 bales.

DAILY WORKERS MAKING BIG PROGRESS TOWARD MOCK FINISH

Only Three More Days in Which to Get the Largest Amount of Votes During the Remaining Days of Daily's Big Campaign.

Changes in the leadership in The Decatur Daily Prize Campaign is being noted even at this early stage. Each candidate, with the help of friends, is striving for a high position on the honor list. The next list of votes will be published Saturday when many more changes are predicted, as candidates who until the present time have been inactive promise some real action before the end of the present week.

As explained before in this column if the workers themselves will take personal charge of their campaign at all, the friends who have been supporting them without any encouragement will actually redouble their efforts. It has been proven often, and will be demonstrated in practically every instance where the candidate will devote a portion of his or her time in directing the efforts of their friends.

There are still some on the list who have not as yet awakened to the importance of this fact. However, as each day passes, some few of these come to see the spirit of the campaign in its proper light and seriousness, with the result the race is starting out as a "knip and tuck" fight that bids to be such until the last vote has been counted on November 17.

That it is not too late to enter was demonstrated by one of the candidates on Monday by Miss Virginia Lile of Trinity, Ala. Her nomination reached the office last week. The necessary

T. L. BEAUCHAMP TO RECEIVE PROMOTION

Will Become Manager of The Tuscaloosa Properties

MUCH REGRET IS EXPRESSED TODAY

Local Manager of the Power Company Gets New Position

Thomas L. Beauchamp, for seventeen years manager of the Light and Power company here, first as owned by the Electric Bond and Share company of New York and since 1913 as owned by the Alabama Power company, will be transferred to Tuscaloosa, effective November 1, where he will become manager of the properties of the Alabama Power company at Tuscaloosa.

Mr. Beauchamp's promotion is received with pleasure here from a professional standpoint, but from a standpoint of friendship and comradeship his early departure is regarded with sincere regret by his many friends. It is understood Mr. Beauchamp will leave for Tuscaloosa in time to take charge of the offices of the Alabama Power Company there by November 1, and that his family will follow later. The departure of Mr. Beauchamp is regretted not only on his own account but on account of the loss to the many friends of Mrs. Beauchamp and her attractive family.

Russell M. Shearer, of the Birmingham office, of the Alabama Power Company, will succeed Mr. Beauchamp as manager of the Alabama Power Company. Mr. Shearer has arrived in the city, but he will not take up his new duties as manager until November 1. Mr. Beauchamp in speaking of his successor declared this morning that he was personally acquainted with Mr. Shearer and that he congratulated the people on the prospect of his becoming a citizen of Decatur at an early date. Mr. Beauchamp said he was sure of the people of the community in which he had lived for seventeen years and that he knew they would give a hearty welcome to his successor.

Mr. Beauchamp said that his life among the people here had been a happy one and that it was with sincere regret that he must leave so many good friends.

The two uptown offices now used by the power company here were not opened when Mr. Beauchamp came here in 1906, the only office being one near where the steam plant of the company is now located. The first uptown office was established in the Malone building and a few years ago the new offices of the company, the one on Second avenue and the other on Bank street were opened. The Alabama Power Company here furnishes over 90 per cent of the power consumed and the company furnishes all the electric and gas lights of the city.

The Alabama Power Company's present holdings in Tuscaloosa consist of the street railway, the gas supply and the electric lighting facilities of the city.

Father, Mother and Son Are Killed

(Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 25.—A triple tragedy was uncovered today when John C. Hersch, Sr., 46, his wife, Martha Wilson Hersch, and their 13 year old son, John, Jr., were found dead in their apartment in the Norfolk building. All three had bullet wounds in their heads. The mother and son were lying side by side on the bed and a gun was in the right hand of the Senior Hersch.

Reparations Notes Will Be Published

(Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—By common consent the state department in Washington and the British foreign office will issue tonight, for publication in tomorrow morning's newspapers, two important lengthy telegrams, exchanged between Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, and Secretary of State Hughes, concerning an international conference on reparations.

Sixteen Girls Are Taken in Raid

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Sixteen girls ranging in age from 18 to 20 years and 28 men, all Chinese, Japanese, Senegalese or Filipinos were arrested early today when police raided a dance hall on Riverside Drive.

As the detectives mounted the stairs to the hall, which is on the second floor they were met by a woman who told them no white men were allowed in the establishment.

Taken to the police station in three patrol wagons, the men were booked for disorderly conduct, while the girls were held as incorrigible.

Rich Society Matron Fights for Children

At the direction of Mrs. Robert H. Gamble, millionaire heiress of New York, attorneys have started a fight in Jacksonville, Fla., to secure her two children, Catherine Bruce, three, and Robert Howard, Jr., two, who, she alleges, were kidnapped from her home at Huntington, L. I., by her divorced husband. The children had been awarded her by the court. Mrs. Gamble, who was miss Virginia Bruce Loney, heiress to $1,500,000, was married to Ensign Robert Howard Gamble, of the Naval Flying Corps, in 1917. He is now a member of the Stock Exchange firm of Prince & Whitney, in New York City.

THEATRES NOW ARE BEING IMPROVED

The plans of the Sudekum Brothers, of Nashville, who lately bought all the theater interests of Decatur are now being worked out. The Princess theater, the largest of the local playhouses, is undergoing a thorough overhauling and will not be used for regular shows for some weeks to come. The Masonic, the Delite and the Star theaters are now taking care of the theater goers.

A new "white way" has been erected by the Sudekum company, beginning at Second avenue and terminating at the doors of the Masonic theater, where the largest shows are taking place while the Princess is being remodeled.

For the Delite and Star theaters, a new colored lighting effect is being put in, which adds greatly to the appearance of these theaters.

A notable picture was shown at the Masonic last night called "The Wonders of the Sea."

This picture is one of the new selections now being sent out by Sudekum Brothers. It is full of valuable information as to the formations and life under the oceans.

Joel Wright Dies at Guild, Tenn.

The death at Guild, Tennessee, on October 21 of Joel Wright, ex-service man was announced by Captain C. L. Kearns this morning. The news of the death of Mr. Wright was received with sadness here. He had been in ill health for some years, due to malaria and shell shock. He lived with his wife and small in a house on the Tennessee river here, and as the years passed he grew less able to care for his family. Captain Kearns sent Mr. and Mrs. Wright to G. W. Wright, the father of the ex-soldier at Guild, and Thursday Mr. Wright wrote to the Salvation Army Captain thanking him for his timely service to his son. The wife and children of the late ex-service man now remain with G. W. Wright at Guild, Tenn. Joel Wright was buried at Guild, October 22.

Central Will Have Good Cage Squad

Central high school will not be content with laurels won on the football field, but is going after honors in the basketball courts of the state, as well. The team here, this season, will play on an indoor court. It is expected that the gymnasium in cmfwyppppj jpi school buildings will be ready for use by the time the basketball season gets underway.

Because of limited coaching facilities and in view of the fact that many of the basketball candidates also are out for football, the basket season doesn't get going here until after the gridiron togs are laid away. The school will have several letter men from last year's squad to pick from, together with much new material. Morow and Scruggs, of Decatur's last year squad, and Pepper, Bloodworth and several others of the former Albany high team also are ready for the call of the new season.

It is understood that one of the activities of the health officials here will be to attend the local health meeting to be held at the hotel Friday at noon. Dr. Hargrave stated it was quite possible that the officials would join in the tuberculosis meeting called for Friday by Secretary Graham of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association.

It is expected that Col. Wrightson will make an inspection as to what is being done in Morgan County to effect malaria control during his visit of Friday. Doctors Welch, Hargrave, Hargrave and Col. Wrightson spent Thursday on a tour of inspection of Limestone county in company with members of the health unit of that county.

"A FRIEND OF FRANCE"—
LLOYD GEORGE

General Georges Dumont, of the French embassy at Washington, on Thursday implied that Lloyd George was a false friend to France, in a public speech. On yesterday, Lloyd George made a reply to the imputation at a luncheon in St. Louis. The distinguished Briton said in reply to Dumont's statement:

"He said 'we pray the Lord will protect us against our friends.' I never heard that prayer between 1914 and 1921. But I shall never forget the agonized prayer of the French ambassador in 1914 to his friends in England. Nine hundred thousand dead throughout the British Empire is the proof of our friendship for France.

"At the present moment, 1,300,000 of our best workmen are eating the bread of charity because we went to the aid of France in 1914.

"I am a sincere friend of France; I have proved it not by mighty phrases but by deeds. For four and one-half years I devoted all my strength to organizing every resource of the British Empire to help France in her agony. I hope the gallant officer who spoke here yesterday will not repeat that prayer to be protected from friends of France. We have a right to give advice. We have a right to say we were friends, but that sacrifices we made shall not be made to perpetuate strife and hatred."—Florence Times.

BANKERS DECLARE FOR HIGH
MORAL AND SPIRITUAL VALUES

A notable utterance by the American Bankers at their recent meeting in Atlantic City is to the effect that the world's economic recovery is dependent upon moral and spiritual regeneration. The bankers do not say that personal character, a home in heaven, or absolute happiness is dependent on moral and spiritual regeneration—they say that business is dependent on such an accomplishment. It has not been customary for business men to express their dependence on high spiritual and moral standards. It is something new under the sun, for any convention of more business men to declare for high religious ideals, but the American Bankers did as is shown by the true, brave and strong words:

"In the midst of the many puzzling economic problems which the world faces today, largely resulting from the political differences and ambitions of rival nations, the conclusion is inevitably forced on the impartial observer that the primary need of the world is moral and spiritual regeneration as the essential basis for economic recovery.

"Until the nations of the world are willing to liquidate their hates, they can make slight progress toward liquidating their debts.

selfishness are mitigated by a higher regard for the rights of others, until a larger degree of international good-will supplants racial animosities, until a higher regard for moral obligations and human welfare characterize the practices of men, the many economic problems incident to the operation of these evil forces will await solution.

"While the purposes which dominate the councils of the nations are political, rather than economic, are selfish rather than fraternal, are following the forces of expediency and opportunism rather than the ends of justice and righteousness, there can be little hope for improvement in the existing order.

"Until ideals of human welfare, of a just distribution of earth's bounties and a righteous observance of the common good are more firmly implanted in the minds of men, we must expect the constant conflict of interest and its expression in political, social and economic disorder.

"To the ends of a better understanding, not only of the purposes of business, but of life, that a better order may be established among men, the bankers of America dedicate themselves in united effort to attain and maintain those ideals of civilization upon which alone society can soundly rest."

AN ARMISTICE DAY SENTIMENT
FROM PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

In response to a request from the League of Remembrance, an organization which is seeking to secure a simultaneous world-wide observance of November 11, Armistice Day, President Calvin Coolidge has sent the following sentiment:

"It is now quite apparent that the observance of Armistice Day is destined to be, for many years, one of the national sacramental occasions of deep significance.

"So long as the generation of young men who served in the World War, and those who supported them behind the lines, shall continue to color the national thought and interest this occasion will be in no danger of losing its place in public thought. When they are gone it will just as surely be held sacred in the memories of those who are to come after as the other national memorial days have been.

"Observance of Armistice Day will always be a reminder of the great part which our nation took in the fraternity of the world in a time of overshadowing crisis. Already it has become a peculiarly significant world memorial day, celebrated on every continent by people who feel its special appeal because they were participating in the tremendous events which it celebrates. Such universal observance must tend to draw closer together the great communities in whose keeping are the destinies of our civilization and to make them realize more and more the essential unit of human society."

The unity of human society has ever been recognized in theory, at least. The moulders of public sentiment who have taught the universal brotherhood of man, however, have had great difficulty in getting such a plain commonsense doctrine received to the extent that those who profess it will practice it in their lives.

Mr. Coolidge's expression concerning the "part which our nation took in the fraternity of the world" is a graceful one. It leaves out any ugly reference to the non-fraternal people who in their ignorance and pride sought to trample human relations under a military iron-clad foot. Mr. Coolidge's thought in connection with the inner motives that moved Americans to join the Allies in the World War that ended at Armistice Day, was akin to the claim made by former President Wilson all along in that war, namely, that the American people were not making war upon the German people, but upon the German Imperial government. America may be faulted and justly so, for leaving Europe at the time she did and in the way she did, but it will be exceedingly difficult for any save rank pacifists to fault this country for entering the World War on the side of the Allies. Very likely some day, just as clear seeing English people feel glad that Americans withstood George III during eight long years of war, and finally broke his autocratic power, so will clear thinking Germans be glad that America helped defeat and banish one of the most selfish, vain and essentially ignorant men that ever lived.

Mr. Coolidge evidently has no regrets for the part America took in the World War. He evidently believes that with the flight of Hindenburg's armies, the way was opened for a practical realization of "the essential unity of human so-

New York has a man engaged in what he says is gainful occupation, who appears in the city directory as a tattooer of dogs. Inquiry reveals the fact that many owners of dogs have their names tattooed on the dog's skin.

Ingenuity.

One of the most exciting occupations is that in which newsboys engage when a coin drops through a grating in the sidewalk. A long stick is found first. Someone provides a cud of chewing gum, which is stuck on the end of the stick. Then one of the boys guides the gum to the coin and draws it forth, while the rest of the gang coaches and criticizes.—Exchange.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanné Price

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—We are always hearing of the butterflies in the chorus, and having no doubts about the sincerity of their historic aspirations. Back in 1919, the Hippodrome had a show called, "Happy Days," in which Helen Carr made a 122 feet butterfly swoop into the famous tank. She did it successfully 175 times, but there always has to be a last time. She struck the water without her customary perfect form, and the impact to her eyes, was too much. She has been blinded ever since. But she has kept the butterfly spirit, and today is learning to read again with the Braille system. She is as happy as the next one; thinks nothing of Broadway traffic and attends all the "Mystery plays" in town. I wonder if she ever thought of the mystery in the workings of Providence. To portray a butterfly and then be blind, that is a mystery.

At a dinner party the other night someone asked "Where do most New Yorkers come from?" I was about to answer "Rome and Jerusalem," when my right hand neighbor declared very positively: "From the Small town." We all exclaimed over this, and then he told us why he thought so. "I think," he said, "that most folks can be placed so as to speak, by the books they read. I've just noticed on the best-seller list of New York's biggest book jobber the name of the novel, 'The Town that Lived.' Not a bit of it. It is a new story of small-town life that is filled with the humor and sunshine of 'back home.' Joseph C. Lincoln, the author, writes of small-town folks in 'Doctor Nye,' and I think it's the small town folks that have become New Yorkers who've put 'Doctor Nye' at the top of the best-seller list of that New York firm." We were all silent for a minute, and then the most "New Yorker" of the lot of us, a woman whom as far as I know never leaves town, sighed and said: "I've read it and it does make you think of old times."

The Theater Guild has inaugurated its new season with Galasworthy's "Windows." The play is an after-war product, but is devised and presented in the lightest comedy mood. It has many old favorites in the cast Moffat Johnson, one of the few actors who appears in many parts, but spheres to an unflinching level of excellence, Helen Westley, the pioneer of the Guild, who seems to have an endless streak of stage acumen, Kenneth Macenna and Phyllis Povah. But the Guild is never content with relying on the past. It always has its arms out for the encouragement of new artists. Some of the critics are saying that the honors in this production were taken by Albee Delmore Cliffe and Francis Tweed. Certainly the impressions they gave were memorable even though swift in their minor parts.

It is said that the people down on Thompson street hope to be so that they can ride in the district's new Musical Hearers. John Petrucci, who has invested the modest sum of $19,875 in an elaborate motor hearse, topped by five enameled wooden angles and with a radio amplifying device which gives volume to appropriate funeral music from phonograph inside, has had an increase of fifteen per cent in business. The other undertakers are dead with envy and all of them want to rent John's hearse, but since he went to the trouble of putting some style in death, he is not going to share the advantage. It seems that the neighborhood Italian bands charge about $90.00 for funeral music, but with the musical hearse this cost is avoided. John maintains it is an invention and not a novelty. Some of his enemies are reading the report that the angles are rigged up so as to move the time of the music and that such going on are irrelevant, but stationary or dancing, they are getting the business.

If a woman believes she is pretty, she seems to have perfect confidence. Linnekaamp, Viennese artist, who has come to New York in quest of the fifteen most beautiful women in America, is learning the temerity of such an effort. Beauty hunting is a nerve wrecking business. Mr. Linnekaamp waits after a few brief days of it, themselves by the end of his second day here, clamoring that they individually represented perfect beauty. New York women dress too well, for one thing, he explains. It is the task of deciding what they really look like doubly difficult. The artist is finding the most hopeful candidates among business and society women, our actresses and chorus girls fail to meet his standards for some reason.

"White Desert" the new play by Maxwell Anderson, is a sordid tragedy of the North Dakota prairies, excellently acted and directed with the art which never fails Brock Pemberton, who is producing it. Frank Shannon and Deh Merrill play the brutally jealous husband and the wife who is unfaithful to him in a time of difficult to differentiate them as "leads."

Pigeons always seemed to me to be in the "beautiful but stupid" class. But they certainly have something which serves as a substitute for a thinking apparatus. The instant James Allen walks into Madison Square, the flock which makes their home about there, get in jinking of his presence and begin to flutter down to the sidewalk close to him. For years, Mr. Allen has made it a noontime habit to feed them with cracked corn and oats, and everyone of them know him, even at considerable distance.

Friendly Philosophy.
You may dam the little stream or may change its course, but unless you check it at its source you cannot stop the flow. Likewise with trivial faults of our own. Check them at the outset and the greater errors will not occur.

Wheat is the Fuel of Life

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising Flour, or any so called ready-to-use substitute for plain flour and good baking powder. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for the health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

SIXTY PIRATES LOOT CHINESE STEAMER

(Associated Press)
HONG KONG, Oct. 25.—Sixty pirates, heavily armed, Tuesday night help up and looted the Chinese steamer Sunning, enroute from Hong Kong to Kowloon, seriously wounded Capt. McKethie and Chief Officer Spitzler, and robbed more than 300 Chinese passengers, many of the latter having just returned from America with the savings of a number of years. The vessel had just entered the channel, near Hong Kong, when the pirates who were aboard in disguise overpowered the engine crew, disarmed two Indian guards. Captain McKethie and his chief officer put up a gallant fight, but fell before a fusillade of bullets.

UNDERWOOD FIGHT FORMALLY OPENED

(Associated Press)
DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 25.—The active candidacy of Oscar W. Underwood for President became a fight here today. Senator Underwood arrived here early today from Wichita Falls to make the principal address of his Texas tour at the state fair of Texas here this morning.

Hundreds of prominent Texans gathered here for the initial rally of the Underwood for president-club of this state. Formal opening of his campaign in Texas was made by the Alabamian at Locona, Texas, ate yesterday, when he declared that he was going to give the South a chance to select a Southern man to carry the banner of democracy.

The South must assert itself, he said, and expressed belief the great democratic north will recognize its right to carry the banner.

At Wichita Falls last night Senator Underwood took his stand firm for law enforcement. Liquor smuggling should be stopped by federal revenue cutters, if necessary, regardless of what nation's flag the ship carried, he said.

The recent conference of governors with President Coolidge on law enforcement was a "buck passing affair," he said.

The President asked the governors why they had not enforced the law and they replied, asking the President if he would enforce it, the speaker stated.

COMBS OF WOOD

Women of Ancient Egypt Used Boxwood Ornaments.

Prof. S. J. Record of Yale University Describes Various Kinds of Wood Used Centuries Ago.

The tresses of a pharaoh's daughter were dressed with combs of wood, says Prof. S. J. Record of Yale university, who recently made a study of the different kinds of woods used by the ancient Egyptians. These combs were made of boxwood, which was much used for carving by the early Egyptians, and they were not greatly dissimilar to some of the combs which adorn the women of the Twentieth century.

"As one wooden object after another from the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen has been described and pictured in the public press, many questions have arisen," writes Mr. Record. "What kinds of woods are these? Whence did they come? What preservatives have kept them sound for thousands of years? How can these woods be identified today?"

Professor Record's studies included the woods representative of the period from 2000 B. C. to 1200 B. C. Wood played an important part in the lives of these Egyptians and it had to be hauled very long distances. Cedar he found to be one of their most prized woods, the most famous species being the cedar of Lebanon, which is no myth, as some are inclined to believe.

The Egyptians used cedar extensively for coffins, boxes, large effigies and for such general purposes as we use white pine. They also used cypress, another wood of great durability. The gopher wood used in making the Ark of the Covenant was probably cypress, according to Professor Record.

The yew, a tree noted for its durability as the cedar and the cypress, was used by the Egyptians in the making of bows, carvings and small implements. Sycamore was used for mummy cases, but the sycamore of the ancients was a fig, an evergreen timber tree sometimes called a fig mulberry.

These species were employed where large sizes were demanded, while in the manufacture of smaller articles the Egyptians used such local growth as was available, which apparently was limited to tamarisk, alder and other minor species. The Egyptians were skilled woodworkers, cabinet makers and wood carvers.

Wood veneering is not an ultra-modern accomplishment, but it is in fact a practice of venerable antiquity. It was developed by the Egyptians several thousand years before the birth of Christ. Professor Record found an admirable example of this craftsmanship in the coffin of the monarch Nephthys from Meir, displayed in the Ninth Egyptian room of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

That these woods used by the Egyptians have endured the centuries, Professor Record attributes to the dry climate of Egypt and not to any preservatives employed. Professor Record identified the different woods by subjecting them to intensive study under the microscope and comparing their cell structure with that of the species as found growing today.—American Forestry Magazine.

Across Empty Continent.

Two explorers, seventy-year-old twins, by the bye, have just crossed Australia from south coast to north coast and back, covering nearly 6,000 miles in 67 days with three motor cars. The explorers passed through vast stretches of country without sign of man or beast, an experience, Captain White considers, which most strikingly justifies the late Lord Northcliffe's lament over the folly and menace of the "Empty Continent." Mr. McCallum, one of the two brothers, says he was amazed at the abundance of fertile country through which they passed. In the interior and mentions one plain, 150 miles long and extending east and west as far as the eye can see, consisting of splendid alluvial soil. They passed through superb pastoral areas with many rivers available for huge irrigation schemes, but the development of these lands would be absolutely dependent upon the building of a direct north-south transcontinental line.

The Fond Parent.

The boy who had scratched his name on the paint of the stationary motor car had been soundly cuffed by the owner.

Attracted by the loud howling which resulted, a crowd soon gathered, through which the father of the boy pushed his way.

"Who struck my son?" he demanded furiously. "Show me the man!" The motorist stepped forward. He was 6 feet 2 inches in height and 49 round the chest.

"I did," he said. "Served him right, sir," said the man, touching his cap. "I'll give him another hiding when I get him home."

On the Safe Side.

"I see you have put lightning rods on your new barn."

"Had to do it," answered Farmer Cornetossel.

"You said years ago that lightning rods were useless."

"Yep. Science has been mighty busy since then. If they kin prove that the old law of gravitation ain't workin' any more there's no tellin' but what they've given us a new law 't electricity."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

No Narcotics

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this subject, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J.
Hudson, Scranton, Pa.,
says:
"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used
"Mother's Friend" and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes.
"Mother's Friend" saved us our mothers and grandmothers did not wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., R. & T.
Albany, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND
NEVER SUSPECT IT*Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggist who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test
this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.
Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Adv.

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND*Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are mak-tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, boiling soap or flannel soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together

the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is made in half an hour and requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.
